Oh, No! We Never Mention Fifth
Oh, no! we never mention him, his name
is never heard;
My ilps are now forbid to speak that
once familiar word;
From sport to sport they hurry me, to banish my regret;
And when they win a smile from me,
they think that I forget,

They bid me seek in change of scene the charms that others see;
But were I in a foreign land, they'd find no change in me.
"Tis true that I behold no more the valley
where we met.
I do not see the inavthorn tree; but how can I forget?

For oh, there are so many things recall

the past to me—
The breeze upon the sunny hills, the billows of the sea;
The rosy tint that decks the sky before the sun is set—
Ay, every leaf I look upon forbids me to forget.

They tell me he is happy now, the gayest of the gay;
They hint that he forgets me, too—but I heed not what they say:
Perhaps like me he struggles with each feeling of regret;
But if he loves as I have loved, he never can forget.

WHEN I WAS ONE AND TWENTY

By A. E. HOUSMAN.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

When I was one-and-twenty I heard a wise man say,
"Give crowns and pounds and guineas
But not your heart away; Give pearls away and rubles, But keep your fancy free." But I was one-and-twenty,

When I was one-and-twenty I heard him say again, "The heart out of the bosom Was never given in vain; 'Tis paid with sighs a plenty And sold for endless rue, And I am two-and-twenty,
And oh! 'tis true, 'tis true.

No use to talk to me.

Papal Mosaics.

Papal Mosaics.

The Pope maintains a mosaic factory in the Vatican. Here the patient artists work in a gallery lined with 20,000 lockers, in which repose sticks of silica of all the myriad varying shades required to reproduce the tints from canvas. A solid wooden-backed panel is smoothly filled with plaster to the depth of an inch. On this the mosaic-worker copies the painting to be reproduced. Then day by day he cuts out little chunks and fills up the gap with inch-long bits of the silica. Thus the picture grows roughly in stone. In three or four years a work 2½ by 3½ can be turned out. It is then ground down to uniform smoothness with water and sand under flatiron disks. Then the painting stands revealed, There is a little gallery full of the work for saie. A piece eighteen inches square can be had for $1,000.—New York World.

For a long time the mills of this section have had to extend special favors to Northern selling agents, jobbers and exports, in the way of extra dating and exports in the way of extra dating and exorbitant freight allowances, in order to induce them to take their product on a parity with that of the New England and English mills. Now, however, the Southern product has been improved and its finish bettered, until the manufacturers have become in a way independent.

Captain Ellison A. Smyth, who is largely interested in cotton mills in this State, is president of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of South Carolina, and naturally it has failen to him to take the lead.

Sweeping Change.

Sweeping Change.

Commencing the first day of the ourrent month, the mills that Captain Smyth manages have allowed and will allow no freight rate greater than the rate to New York City, and it shipments are made to points where the freight is less than the New York rate, the freight allowance will only be the actual freight paid. Also, no extra dating will be allowed, but all involces will bear the date of the bill of lading, and a credit of only sixty days will be extended to jobbers and only ten days on goods for conversion and export.

Captain Smyth has consulted with several of the large manufacturers in the State, and they have agred to put the same schedule of terms and freight allowances into operation in their mills. Most of the members of the association have given their selling agents instructions to comply strictly with Captain Smyth's practice.
